~~Comment:~~ If TEUBER is identical with TIEBL, mentioned below, this Control Unit would appear to be an internal security section.)

Investigation Unit:

A group of civilian criminal investigators. The chief is Rudolf SCHAR, allegedly a former member of the Vienna Criminal Police. He is said to be feared and hated by Zistersdorf workers. In September 1947, an Austrian employee of one of the installations in the Zistersdorf area made a statement to the Austrian Police in which he described his interrogation at Werkschutz headquarters in Neusiedl. He claimed that physical brutality was employed in order to force him to sign a false confession of attempted theft. The officer who ordered the interrogation was 1st Lt. TIEBL. ~~Comment:~~ TIEBL may be identical with TEUBER mentioned above.)

Comment: It is known that Werkschutz units are assigned to guard USIA factories and munitions dumps in Burgenland and Lower Austria. Source is unable to provide information on the organizational breakdown of the USIA Werkschutz.)

- II. Former members of the Austrian Freedom Fighters, particularly former members of that organization's Third Battalion, form the nucleus of the Werkschutz. Applicants apply to Major HIEBL in Neusiedl an der Zaya. He forwards the applications with his recommendations to Vienna headquarters, where candidates must apply for final approval. Only Communists are accepted. Most Werkschutz members are Austrians from Lower Austria and Vienna, but there are some Czechs and Yugoslavs. Guards are on duty for two consecutive days, and off duty for four days. During the days when they are not on guard duty they are required to take part in military drill and to attend political indoctrination classes. This training is considered confidential. Military drill and political courses are also obligatory for Fire Guard members. It is said that within the next two weeks twenty members of Werkschutz Stab 2 will be discharged because they are not considered reliable. Major HIEBL now holds a list of the names of these men.

III. Uniforms

The Werkschutz uniform is black and consists of long trousers, a long jacket with open collar and four pockets, a black cap with leather visor, a cloth or leather belt and an overcoat. All Werkschutz members are armed with rifles of German, Czechoslovak, or English manufacture. Leaders and officers carry German model 08 pistols or machine pistols. Comment: Photographs of Werkschutz members in uniform are available.) 25X1A
